

New Kid on the Hot-Bloc

Hawk-Woods new 'Hot-Bloc' adaptor allows operators to maximise the potential of their cameras hot-shoe. Once attached via a thumb-screw, it provides three more hot-shoe mounts. This gives the user the opportunity to mount multiple on-board devices. This could be many different configurations, such as a lamp and two radio mics, or a lamp and hard disk recorder.

Known as the HB-A1, the 'Hot-Bloc' is part of the Hawk-Woods camera hot-shoe system. In the pipeline are versions with a battery fitting and power outputs, so as well as mounting hardware to a single hot-shoe, you can power it from there as well. The HB-A1 'Hot-Bloc' is available now with a list price of £40.00+VAT.
